

With COVID-19 posing a unique and unprecedented threat to the FAMU community and the world at large, there will be no University in-person activities through the end of May. I am sad to say that I have confirmed with the University, that per BOG guidance, this unfortunately means that the University will not have traditional Spring Commencement or the traditional COL Hooding Ceremony. We know how important this celebratory ritual is for our graduates.

A survey of law students revealed that the majority would like the hooding ceremony rescheduled for August 2020. We're unable to confirm a date or location for a rescheduled hooding ceremony at this time. All students will be notified when information is available.

Please stay safe,
